

GREATER CONSCIOUSNESS AND
INCREASED AWARENESS
THROUGH STRESS RELEASE

Consciousness is an abstract term. Growth of consciousness or awareness is the natural result of the release of accumulated stress from the nervous system. Only the purposeful use of a deep relaxation technique will dissolve the deeper stress accumulated from everyday life. Dissolving this strain releases the greatest energy, creativity and intelligence of the individual.

The DASA Technique was developed and founded in 1975 by Adesha Rein.

STRESS MANAGEMENT MADE EASY

The DASA Meditation method is based on the centuries old practice of a silent mantra used by cultures throughout the world. The DASA method is a Western adaptation free of dogma and religious affiliation.

NATURAL TO THE MIND AND BODY

The method involves both concentration and release, using a simple four-part procedure which focuses the mind then releases stress by deeply relaxing both the mind and body.
